

Jani Majewski, Event Chair
BQLI Region Woman of Achievement Gala

Dear BQLI Region Friends,

The sense of joy and fulfillment I feel each year as we celebrate the extraordinary women who are our Woman of Achievement Honorees is so gratifying. Whether in person or virtually, every effort is made to recognize and honor the dedication, commitment, and loyalty to the honorees' synagogues and communities.

I am extremely fortunate to work with an incredible team of innovative, talented, and dedicated women on this event. We continue to raise the bar to create a Gala bigger and better than the previous one. We are a well-oiled machine that gets better with time, and I thank each of you for helping to make my job as Gala Chair so smooth and pleasurable. Here we are, once again, celebrating virtually and we have, yet again, expanded our versatility with new technology to create a state of the art 2021-2022 Woman of Achievement Gala.

The Woman of Achievement Gala is an opportunity to honor that special woman in your Sisterhood who continuously goes above and beyond and deserves the recognition that she isn't striving for, yet definitely deserves. What would we do without these remarkable women? Volunteers are the heartbeat of our Sisterhoods, and we simply would not thrive without them.

Tonight, we are proud to honor 22 women. Each of these remarkable women are role models for the next generation, our "Little Sisters." It is equally important to recognize the younger generation, the future of our Sisterhoods who exemplify the same qualities of leadership, determination and commitment.

This is the first year that BQLI Region of Women's League of Conservative Judaism is presenting our young leaders with the L'Dor V'Dor Award. We excitedly have 2 honorees in this category, and we encourage each Sisterhood to consider nominating a young woman for this inspirational award going forward. As sisters, it is our responsibility to support, nurture and encourage the little sisters in our synagogues to keep our Sisterhoods flourishing.

Yasher Koach to our Honorees! Thank you for representing Sisterhood's values and traditions so meaningfully. May each of you go from strength to strength.

I hope you all enjoy yourselves as we celebrate the contributions of tonight's extraordinary women...to their Sisterhoods, synagogues, and communities!

Warmly,
Jani Majewski
