Needlework Guild Prepare For Annual Meeting Here Nov. 13th

The Needlework Guild will meet on Thursday, November 13 at the home of Mrs. Reginald Eagles.

In talking with the Editor, Mrs. Theodore Kelly, President of the Guild, observed that it is not alone the big men and women in high places doing far sighted planning for our country's good — that keeps us a great country but the many devoted citizens in quiet walks of life who see ahead and fill it. Of such is Needlework Guild.

The Needlework Guild of America - Hastings Branch will hold its forty-first annual meeting at the home of Mrs. Reginald Eagles on Thursday, November 13 at 3 o'clock. A very cordial invitation to attend the meeting and to view the exhibit of garments and to stay for tea is extended to all Hastings residents.

This is not the type of invitation as "Come see me sometime" — This really means what it says. The Guild wants all Hastings to see one of the most unique charities in action, and Mrs. Eagles is a hostess who really cordially welcomes you.

You may ask what is the Needlework Guild. What does it do? The answer is—that it gives an annual gift of warm clothing, bed linen, towels, wash cloths, anything in fact that would give a bit of comfort to a veteran confined for weary months in a hospital - to a widow with young children facing a winter without adequate clothing for herself or her children, to orphanages of all faiths, to hospitals.

Hastings gives to Dobbs Ferry and Grasslands, striving to meet expenses on a much depleted income, to the sick and unfortunate everywhere, the Needlework Guild comes with its gifts of new (note that), warm clothing. Perhaps a little history of the Guild would throw a little light on the work.

Many years ago - one might almost say, once upon a time, there was a frightful mine disaster in Wales. Many children were orphaned by it. Men who survived it were crippled and unable to care for their families.

An English lady, Lady Wolverton called her wealthy friends together and in one way and another contrived to build an orphanage. Then the problem of clothing these destitute children arose and Lady Wolverton asked for new, warm clothing. She had seen and noted the happiness that came to these little children when she had been able to give them new clothing, not cast-offs, but clothing designed directly for the child it was going to.

An American lady, Mrs. Hartpence, traveling in England at the time gave her help to the cause and likewise marvelled at the psychological effect of the new clothing.

When she returned to her home in Philadelphia she told a group of debutantes, who were anxious to work for the less fortunate, that this formula, new warm clothing should be their goal.

They agreed and the Needlework Guild was born. Of course, it has long since outgrown this little group, many of whom are dead though one, Miss Sarah Bach Hodge is still an active member in Philadelphia.

But the spirit is far from dead. Today in every state in the Union - the Guild is giving its gift - of new warm clothing. Our Hastings Branch is only one of nearly And still the story is the same.

six hundred groups. No dues, one meeting a year. Simply two articles which would be useful to any unfortunate temporarily "down and out", to any orphanage or hospital - (even two wash cloths would be welcome), makes you a full scale Needlework Guild member.

The Hastings Branch was organized by Mrs. Frederick Zinsser and few of us who had the privilege of helping her get her quota together will ever forget those meetings in her home, one of the highlights of the Fall season.

I think you get the point - it's not the big men alone.

Ike Takes Hastings By 3 to 1 Vote

Manor) and the 19th (Hudson Heights) where they won by margins equivalent to five to one. In the 16th (Protection Engine) and 20th (Uniontown) the margins approximated three to one for Ike.

Largest pluralities, however, were chalked up in these two districts with the 16th casting a total vote of 1206, of which Ike received 888 and Stevenson, 318, a plurality of 570 for the Republican choice. The 20th voted 1053 with 794 going to Eisenhower and 259 to Stevenson, a majority of 535 for the former. The vote in the 17th was 506 to 103, a plurality of 403 for Eisenhower and in the 19th it was 632 to 135, a plurality of 497 for the G.O.P.

Hastings led all other villages in the town with its plurality for Eisenhower though Ardsley was the banner village in this respect, percentagewise. Hastings gave a plurality of 293 to Eisenhower compared to 2044 in Tarrytown and 1421 in Dobbs Ferry.

The only district in the town which failed to give Ike a favorable vote was the 26th where Stevenson won 304 to 201.

In the entire town the vote was 29,265, of which Eisenhower received 20,840 to 8,425 for Stevenson, a majority of 12,415 for the former or approximately a margin of 2½ to one.

Innet Returned By Record Vote

While records were going by the boards, Tuesday, Hastings voters joined in returning Edward H. Innet, formerly of this village, to the state assembly in the Second District by the largest plurality ever given a candidate for that post. Mr. Innet's margin was 18,015 over his Democratic opponent, John J. Klosin, of Yonkers, as compared to 10,410 in 1950. The vote was Innet, 40,694; Klosin, 22,679.

Innet followed Eisenhower quite closely in all local districts, faring the poorest percentage-wise in this respect in the 20th (Uniontown), where he polled 714 as compared to 326 for Klosin, giving him considerably better than a 2 and one half margin for the area. His total vote in Hastings was 3126, compared to 1267 for Klosin, a 2 and one half margin.

In two districts in his home town, Dobbs Ferry, Innet ran ahead-of the ticket, including Eisenhower.

Hastings districts voted, as follows:
16th - Innet, 853; Klosin, 286;
17th - Innet, 485; Klosin, 107;
18th - Innet, 476; Klosin, 298;
19th - Innet, 598; Klosin, 138;
20th - Innet, 714; Klosin, 307.

Irvin L. Scott Dies Suddenly

Irvin L. Scott of 100 Summit Drive, partner in the New York architectural firm of Shreve, Lamb and Harmon, died of a heart attack Friday at his office, 11 East Fourty-fourth Street, New York. He was fifty-four years old and had been chairman of the Planning Commission of Hastings.

Mr. Scott, a native of Provo, Utah, attended Cornell University and was graduated from its College of Architecture in 1923, after his education had been interrupted by service as a second lieutenant in the Army in World War I.

Mr. Scott joined the office of Joseph Urban, architect and scenic designer after returning from Europe and Africa, where he had gone on a scholarship. He managed that concern some eight years after Mr. Urban's death in 1933.

In 1941 he became project manager for the development of Army bases in Newfoundland.

He was a member of the American Institute of Architects and the New York Building Congress.

Surviving are his wife, the former Dorothy French; a son, Michael, a daughter, Julia and four sisters, Mrs. Ethel Spencer and Mrs. Louise Cochran, both of Provo, Utah, Mrs. Verna Grace Sanford of Washington and Mrs. Inez Humphrey of Los Angeles.

Burial services were held on Monday at Ferncliff Mausoleum, Hartsdale.

CANTEEN TO MEET

The new Junior Canteen of the Greenburgh Hebrew Center will meet for the first time Saturday night, Nov. 8th at 7:30 p. m. under the guidance of Bernard Schiff. All local Jewish boys and girls, aged 11 to 14 are invited to come and join the club.

Reformed Church Elects Officers

November 9th is Loyalty Sunday. In co-operation with other churches in the Community Council, as part of the United Church Canvass, the congregation will be asked to subscribe the budget for 1953 which was adopted at the congregational meeting last Wednesday evening. Preceding the dedication of pledges, Mr. Bossenbroek will preach on the subject, "Give Me Tomorrow." Approximately 50 canvassers have volunteered to follow up absent members and friends in the afternoon and through the week. Howard Batsford is Canvass Director.

At 6 o'clock, the Youth Fellowship will hold its monthly supper meeting. At the devotional service, Betty Newell, goodwill ambassador to Mexico last summer, will show slides of photos taken during her trip. Mona Jore will be the worship leader.

WILLIAM SCHROEDER

Funeral services were held today at Campbell Funeral Home for William Schroeder, President of the Rotary Club of New York City. Mr. Schroeder who is survived by his wife, the former Vera Haug of Hastings, died suddenly in his New York City law office at 42 Broadway early Tuesday. He made his home at Lawrence Farms East, Chappaqua.

Other survivors besides his wife include a daughter, Mrs. James P. Humphreys Jr., and a son, Robert H. Schroeder. Mrs. Schroeder while making her home here was secretary to John L. Hopkins, former Superintendent of Hastings Public Schools, for a number of years, leaving that position to become married to Mr. Schroeder.
