Mazal tov to the entire GHC community on this important milestone - reaching 75 years as a congregation.

Being a part of this special and unique place over the past two years has been an amazing experience. As my first congregation as an ordained Cantor, GHC has been an incredibly warm, welcoming, and supportive place to start my career. This is a community where people can be themselves, which is quite rare and something I really appreciate. People are eager to help one another and look out for each other. They volunteer their time, skills, and money to make sure that the synagogue survives and thrives. It is clear that this is all done from the heart. Another thing I love about GHC is that people here love music and to sing together. Singing with everyone on Shabbat and talking with people after services at Kiddush is a highlight of my week because everyone is so friendly and heimish; it feels like a true community.

I am so happy to be celebrating this diamond jubilee with all of you – here's to many more celebrations!
