Dear Friends:

I am privileged to recognize the achievements of Dr. Kathleen Gallo on the occasion of Hofstra University's annual Gala.

Dr. Gallo has been a pioneer and innovator throughout an illustrious career in healthcare. From her work in emergency nursing to her current position as Executive in Residence for Northwell Health, Dr. Gallo has established herself as an exemplar in treating patients and enhancing the field of medicine. Dr. Gallo has also proven to be a trailblazing leader in interprofessional education and organizational learning. Dr. Gallo has facilitated an innovative learning model highlighted by the development of case-based curriculum, pedagogy, assessment and evaluation methods. Further, the many awards and honors Dr. Gallo has received are a fitting testament to her exceptional abilities as a medical doctor and educator. Honored as a Living Legend by Adelphi University, profiled by Chief Learning Officer magazine for a cover story and listed among the Notable Women in Healthcare by Crain's New York Business, Dr. Gallo has built a foundation of excellence in healthcare and health education.

I am honored to salute Dr. Gallo for her continuous efforts to educate others and help our local community. Her efforts, supplemented by the support and commitment of all those in attendance for this event, are worthy of high praise and admiration for having such a positive and enduring impact.

Once again, it is my absolute pleasure to recognize Dr. Kathleen Gallo for many years of exemplary public service. In addition, I would like to congratulate Hofstra University on another remarkably successful Gala.

Sincerely,

CHRISTOPHER CARINI
