Marshall Starkman

I am a proud Solomon Schechter Alumni (back in the day when there was no high school) and even had the honor of singing with the school choir at Lincoln Center. I have a BS in Finance from NYU where I also became a Brother of Alpha Epsilon Pi Fraternity's Alpha Chapter, and an MBA in Management from the Zarb School of Business at Hofstra University. I started my career working on Wall Street for Drexel Burnham Lambert prior to an eventual move to Smith Barney, where I attained my Series 7 and 63 Licenses. Eventually, I moved my career over to NYNEX/Bell Atlantic/Verizon before ending up as a Sales Manager for T-Mobile USA. As a huge commercial aviation enthusiast (I was actually accepted to the US Air Force Academy), I now enjoy taking monthly day trips just to spend some time in the air and on the flight deck. I am a diehard New York Mets fan and combine my love of flying with an occasional road trip to see the Mets play around the country. I am married to my wife, Allison, and live in Woodbury. I am most proud to be a member of Midway Jewish Center, where I attend morning minyan every day. I am so thankful for this honor but even more honored to be a part of the Men's Club with such a great group of guys
