Ms. Eileen Olan Bohrer
Executive Director
Schechter School of Long Island
6 Cross Street
Williston Park, NY 11596

Dear Ms. Bohrer,

On behalf of UJA-Federation of New York, it is a privilege and a pleasure to join you in honoring Susan and Kourosh Adhami, Alan Brent, Jodie and Mathew Fineman, and Jill and Randy Kiewe. We are enormously fortunate that – year after year – the Schechter School of Long Island delivers the very best in Jewish education to an ever-growing student body on the elementary and high school levels. For the greater New York Jewish community, the Schechter school serves as a real blessing; an opportunity for Jewish youth to embrace the creativity, wisdom, and tradition of our culture. Truly, no cause is nobler.

For these reasons, UJA-Federation of New York is proud to partner with the Schechter school in our $51 million Day School Challenge Fund, launched this past fall. By providing matching dollars for new endowment gifts secured by participating schools, the Fund is designed to encourage day schools to build endowments as a means to securing long-term affordability and academic excellence. The Schechter school embodies the values we seek to inspire in Jewish youth, and it is an honor to share in this historic endeavor with such an inspiring team of leaders.

When UJA-Federation came to know the Schechter school through the Generations New York Program, we were proud to share in your vision for Jewish education and the betterment of our community. To this day, Schechter LI continues to exceed our expectations and go above and beyond for the needs of its expanding student body. We thank you for your ongoing commitment to the Jewish people, and look forward to continuing our copacetic relationship with Schechter LI for many years to come.

All my best,

Eric S. Goldstein
Chief Executive Officer
