

Gail Milchman, Executive Director

My first introduction to Bruce was when he attempted to enroll Mark in the preschool of Temple B'nai Abraham. In those days, some 18 years ago, we had a waitlist, and Bruce was passionate about making sure Mark would have a place. Needless to say, Mark got a spot, and Bruce was very happy.

Whenever there was a crisis, whether it be personnel, a member in need or the great tragedy of 9/11, Bruce with his medical expertise, was there to help. He always handled the situation with compassion and strength. We knew then that we could count on Bruce.

Over the years, Bruce took on many leadership roles. I always enjoyed working with him and learning from him.

I was delighted when Bruce became president of the congregation. Then I truly learned what a strong and smart man he was. I enjoyed our weekly meetings when we tried to solve the crisis of the week and plan for TBA's future.

Bruce was not only a great leader but a friend to many, and especially me. I miss him...
