Dear Julie,

Our relationship began about 35 years ago. I was a teacher, and you were a parent getting ready to send your child to nursery school. First was cute, blond- haired Matthew and then sweet, adorable Karen. You were always willing to be involved in the school. All fond memories.

You have always been committed to volunteering. From Board of Education Chair to President, leading many other committees along the way. Our relationship continued to grow as I went from teacher to director. As director I always appreciated your support. Your time and dedication were quite remarkable.

We always joked with each other about how much time you spent at the temple. I am sure there were many five-day weeks. In retirement, slow down a little, try to make it five days a month... only time will tell.

The last three years changed everyone's lives. You stepped up to become president, one more time. I am grateful for that. Temple B'nai Abraham needed Julie and her power to move us forward and inspire.

As we celebrate the end of your third term as president, it has been a privilege to work with you over all these years. Wishing you only the best.

With love and congratulations,

Debbie
